

STARBASE Indiana is pleased to announce the future opening of our new Indianapolis Academy at Stout Field and Summer Camp at the Lawrence Armory!

STARBASE Indiana is a premier educational program, sponsored by the Department of Defense with over 60 academies nationwide. At STARBASE Indiana, students participate in challenging "hands-on, mind-on" activities in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM). The academy provides students with 25 hours of stimulating educational experiences in rocketry, robotics, CAD programming, nanotechnology, physics and much, much more.

New Location

In the fall of 2014, classes will begin for 5th grade students at our new academy located at the Headquarters of the Indiana National Guard - Stout Field. STARBASE Indiana-Indianapolis Campus will continue on the successes of the hugely popular Fort Wayne Academy and will bring its unique form of STEM education to the Indy region. Please visit our website at www.starbasein.org or email the Deputy Director, Brande Morgan at brande@starbasein.org for more information.

Indianapolis Summer Camp—Sign Up Now!

STARBASE Indiana is offering a STEM summer camp FREE OF CHARGE to military families in the Indianapolis area. We are registering students now for a summer camp at STARBASE Indiana, Indianapolis at the Lawrence Armory located at E. 59th Street, Lawrence, Indiana 46216.

Summer camp is available for students entering 5th grade through 7th grades.

The camp is designed with a theme around rockets and robots, and will include loads of STEM fun and activities designed to pique or protract your child's interest in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics. STARBASE Indiana engages students through an inquiry-based curriculum with its "hands-on, minds-on" experiential activities.

Camp Dates: July 8 - 10, 2014 from 0900 – 1430 each day

Transportation and lunch will be the responsibility of the parents; STARBASE covers the rest.

If you are interested in participating, please go to our website: www.starbasein.org and fill out an enrollment application and either email a copy to info@starbasein.org or fax it to (260) 478-3473. Remember space is very limited!
